

Prof. dr. Tomaž Grušovnik, UP PEF

Dr. Tomaž Grušovnik je filozof, pedagog in pisatelj. Njegova področja raziskovanja vključujejo filozofijo vzgoje in izobraževanja, etiko živali in agnotologijo (vedo o nevednosti).

Souredil je zbornika Borders and Debordering (Rowman&Littlefield, 2017) in Environmental and Animal Abuse Denial (Rowman&Littlefield, 2020) ter v slovenskem jeziku spisal osem knjig.

Bil je Fulbrightov gostujoči raziskovalec na Univerzi v Novi Mehiki, ZDA (2009) ter gostujoči predavatelj na Centru za razvoj in okolje Univerze v Oslu, Norveška (2011), na Fakulteti za edukacijo in kulturo na Univerzah v Tampere, Finska (2022), na Pedagoški fakulteti Univerze v Haifi v Izraelu (2023), na Pedagoški fakulteti Univerze v Namibiji v Windhoeku (2024) ter na Šoli za družbene vede v Bhopalu, Indija (2025).

Prejel je več nagrad, vključno z nacionalno nagrado Prometej znanosti (2021), nominacijo za Rožančevo nagrado na za najboljšo zbirko esejev (2022) ter Zoisovo priznanje za izjemne dosežke na področju okoljske etike in etike živali (2024).

Med letoma 2018 in 2020 je bil predsednik Slovenskega filozofskega društva, trenutno pa vodi Center za umetnost na Pedagoški fakulteti Univerze na Primorskem, kjer tudi služi kot prodekan za mednarodno sodelovanje in umetnost.

Od 2020 je predsednik Državne predmetne komisije za filozofijo na splošni maturi. Je tudi glavni urednik znanstvene revije Anthropos.

ANGLEŠKI PREVOD

Tomaž Grušovnik, PhD, is a philosopher, educational scientist, and writer. His areas of research include philosophy of education, animal ethics, and agnotology (science of ignorance).

He co-edited Borders and Debordering (Rowman&Littlefield, 2017) and Environmental and Animal Abuse Denial (Rowman&Littlefield, 2020), as well as authored eight books in Slovenian.

He was a Fulbright visiting colleague at the University of New Mexico, USA (2009) and guest lecturer at the Centre for Development and the Environment, University of Oslo (2011), and at the Faculty for Education and Culture in Tampere University, Finland (2022), as well as at the University of Haifa, Israel (2023), University of Namibia (2024), and Bhopal School of Social Sciences, India (2025).

He received several prizes, including the national Prometheus of Science prize (2021), nomination for Rožanc prize for the best national collection of essays (2022) and Zois prize for outstanding achievements in environmental and animal ethics (2024).

Between 2018 and 2020 he served as the president of Slovenian philosophical society. Currently he serves as a vice-dean for international cooperation at his home institution.

Since 2020 he is the president of the national baccalaureate commission for philosophy, and since 2022 he serves as the Slovenian Rectors' Conference delegate to the Council of Europe Ethics and Integrity in Education platform. He also serves as the editor-in-chief of the Anthropos journal.

